PLAN AUTO ROAD TO THE SUMMIT OF HALEAKALA

(Special Star-Bulletin Correspondence)

WAILUKU, Maui, Nov. 12.—The most exciting piece of news since the election is the action of the Board of Supervisors, favoring an automobile road to the summit of Haleakala. To those who have slowly made the trip on mule back, the undertaking seems stupendous. But the trail nowadays is so much improved over what it was even four years ago, with so many steep ascents made easier by the present winding path which is clearly marked by white sign posts, that an automobile road with even less sharp grades than the present trail takes, would be practicable.

The matter has been seriously discussed in the meetings of the Board, and steps have been taken to obtain a right of way through the pastures of the Haleakala Ranch. This will probably be no difficult task for the owners of the ranch are among the most public spirited citizens of Maui, and would do all in their power to make the trip to the summit of Maui's famous mountain as easy as possible.

The next step is to get the whole of the new road surveyed. This will, of course, take time, but a good survey made at the outset of the undertaking will pay. Many physical matters will have to be taken into consideration; many gulches will have to be crossed so effectively that no frost can wash out the road. An easy grade will first of all have to be sought, and toward the top of the mountain the shifting black sands will have to be looked out for. Here too, the winter's frost and oftentimes heavy snows must be considered. Roadbuilding at such an altitude is something new in these islands and will have to be done with the greatest care.

Head Mountain House. It is also pointed out that in connection with the new road some sort of a mountain house can be built which will be kept in permanently good repair, and made inviting to those who would like to spend a night at the top. Then if the trail can be well marked along the rim of the crater and through the crater in Kaupo, the now rather arduous Haleakala expedition will be made one of the delights of the tourist.

Wilbur A. Anderson, manager of the Nahu Rubber Company, who, with Mrs. Anderson, went on to New York recently for the large convention of rubber men, is now back at Nahu. He had a most enjoyable and successful trip.

Mrs. Frank Pencock, wife of Engineer Pencock of the Island Electric, returned from a short visit to Honolulu.

Japanese Home.

The new project in Wailuku, that of a home for Japanese working girls, is well under way. The property secured is that just above the residence of Judge W. A. McKay on Vineyard street. The old house has been thoroughly made over, and it now provides a home for a large number of Japanese girls who are either working out in families, or who attend school in town. The Maui Aid Association has been helping the work along. A large sum of money has been raised by the Japanese themselves. It is expected that a little later a larger building will be erected, as the demand for this sort of a home is great, and more applications for admission have been made than can be granted at present.

Leander A. Bigger, of Hutchinson, Kansas, whose daughter has intimate friends on Maui, has presented to the Maui Library Association his interesting book "Around the World with a Business Man." The book is one of the most valuable of its kind in the library. The four volumes are filled with excellent pictures. The descriptive matter, though rather brief, is well written and full of personal experience, very much as Mr. Bigger wrote them to friends at home. The work is bound most attractively.

The choirs of the Makawao church and the Wailuku Union church are to unite for the Thanksgiving praise services in both churches on the Sunday before Thanksgiving. Stanley Livingston will be in the choir for the day, and Mrs. Louise Chisholm Jones, soloist for the Wailuku choir, will have a leading part. There are an unusually large number of strong voices in both choirs, so that the music for Sunday, the 24th of the month, ought to be the best heard on Maui for some time.

LOUD PEDAL WAS PAINFUL

The string of Republican defeats has not entirely died out in the wilds of Kakaia, judging from the loud-pedaling voice of protest raised in that congested district last night by a Hawaiian who upon arraignment at police court this morning answered to the name of Hookeimaha.

It was a nerve racking and thick-tongued brand of melody that was sent forth in such volumes that the police hastened to the scene.

Judge Monarrat stifled the matter down to the last note and then presumably taking into consideration the sweeping Bourbonic victory in the city and county of Honolulu, leveled a minimum fine.

A local jehu booked at the station under the name of Green will be arraigned tomorrow upon a charge of heedless driving. While no disastrous results followed the alleged wild ride, the officers took the driver into camp and will endeavor to prosecute the case to the end.

Lee Tuck will have to take his chances with the Grand Jury, and should he be indicted, will then face trial at Circuit Court upon a charge of uttering a false check. The Chinese is charged with having passed a bit of paper bearing the signature of the C. K. Lum Company, which when presented to a local bank for collection was returned with the brief note "no funds" written thereon.

Judge Monarrat found sufficient evidence to remand the defendant to the grand jury. Attorney Chillingworth is looking after the interests of the defendant Lee Tuck.

A window in the Salvation Army reading room was smashed by one Gill Berg, who this morning was found guilty of this deed of vandalism and assessed a fine of $20 and the costs.

BLIND-PIGGER ADMITS GUILT

Vineyard Street Camp 2 continues to bob up with painful regularity in testimony deduced at District Court hearings when cases of wife beating or drunkenness are on the boards.

A system of blind pigs, extensive in its scope apparently flourishes there, judging from accumulated evidence now in the possession of License Inspector Pennell.

Alone Ah Kee, alleged to have done an illicit business at the infamous rendezvous, has been arraigned at District Court.

Presenting Attorney Brown offered the information this morning that inasmuch as the Chinese had decided to enter a plea of guilty as charged the case be allowed to go over for a few days.

Pennell has more than had his hands full in attempting to cope with the strenuous attempts made within the past few weeks in the vending of dago red and other potent beverages at the camp.

Yesterday, during the recital of a wife beating case, it developed that cheap wine was at the bottom of the assault.

This morning a Russian was placed under arrest, the charge being that during a wine fest, he displayed a loaded revolver.

SOMETHING FOR MOTHERS.

This is the season of the year when mothers feel very much concerned over the frequent colds contracted by their children, and have abundant reason for it, as every cold weakens the lungs, lowers the vitality and paves the way for the more serious diseases that so often follow. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any druggist or toilet counter, and just try it.

Sanatogen makes good the Nerve Loss

NERVE loss—what peril to health and happiness lies in those two words!

They mean the failure of that balance between hunger and replenishment that preserves the health.

When the system is perfectly well, the nerves get their proper nourishment from the daily food. But illness, worry, the severe activities of modern life, often drain the nerves of most strength than is restored to them in the ordinary way—the balance is destroyed, and troubles begin. Nerve loss becomes an acute condition.

Sanatogen makes good the loss

It does this by carrying in concentrated form the elements of food specifically required by the nerves. It feeds the nerves with their own food. It revitalizes the enfeebled sources of energy. It builds up the fatigued centers and thus directly and naturally aids in giving back vital force to the system.

Sanatogen's splendid service is recognized by over 15,000 practicing physicians, who have written in praise of its restorative power. World-famous men and women, who have tested Sanatogen, enthusiastically declare that it does "make good." Their testimony is convincing.

Give YOUR nerves the benefit of this proven help.

This Remarkable Book FREE

We will send you a copy of our book, "Sanatogen—The Nerve Food," if you will send us your name and address. The book is a complete guide to the treatment of nerve loss, and is a valuable reference for all who are interested in the subject. It is a free gift to those who send us their names and addresses.

Sanatogen is sold by three firms, $1.00, $1.50, $2.00

Get Sanatogen from your druggist, or from the nearest dealer in the city, and get your nerves back.
